Malin Roux is the founder of RealStars, a Swedish non-profit organization. "We campaign for the elimination of sex trafficking within the EU and promote fair sex through the arts and design."

Réal Laplaine is an internationally published author and motivational speaker from Canada. "My most recent book, SEE ME NOT, was published as an ambassador against sex trafficking of women and children."

In a collaboration we provide groups, companies and schools with inspiring talks about the subject of sex trafficking. As opposed to focusing on the tragedy of sex trafficking and the violations of human rights, our focus is on promoting the positive message in our society. RealStars aim is to raise awareness about this issue and to create increased pressure on the legislative and law enforcement agencies in order to rid Europe of this problem. Our talks are adaptable to any venue and can include a visual presentation and workshops.

Making a change together!
